DETAILED ACTION

Corrected Office Action Restarting time period for response

The period for response is re-started with the mailing of this corrected office action that includes an obviousness double patenting rejection missing from the previous office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shimizu et al in view of Chou et al.

Shimizu et al discloses a method of manufacturing granular perpendicular magnetic recording material. There is provided a non-magnetic substrate, and forming a layer track on the surface, the layer stack including granular perpendicular magnetic recording layer (para 0023). A plasma is generated, and the exposed surface of the layer is treated with plasma to form an oxidized surface layer (para 0110). Al-based alloys are disclosed for the non-magnetic substrate (para 0038). A HCP lattice structure is also disclosed (para 0106).

Shimizu et al does not disclose the plasma containing at least one oxygen species derived from a source gas comprised of a compound of oxygen and at least one other non-metallic element.

Chou et al discloses oxygen plasma reaction (col 4, lines 2-16).

It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art to include such because of advantages taught by Chou et al (col 3, lines 3-10).

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 1-4, 8, and 13 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 15 of U.S. Patent No. 7,081,268 in view of Chou et al. Claims 1-4, 8, and 13 are directed to an invention not patentably distinct from claim 15 of the commonly assigned patent.

The '268 patent does not claim an ionized oxygen-containing plasma.

Chou discloses such and would have been claimed for the reasons as set forth in the rejection utilizing Chou et al above.

5. The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office normally will not institute an interference between applications or a patent and an application of common ownership (see MPEP Chapter 2300). Commonly assigned patent 7,081,268 discussed above, would form the basis for a rejection of the noted claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) if the commonly assigned case qualifies as prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) and the conflicting inventions were not commonly owned at the time the invention in this application was made. In order for the examiner to resolve this issue, the assignee can, under 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and 37 CFR 1.78(c), either show that the conflicting inventions were commonly owned at the time the invention in this application was made, or name the prior inventor of the conflicting subject matter.

Art Unit: 1762

A showing that the inventions were commonly owned at the time the invention in this application was made will preclude a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) based upon the commonly assigned case as a reference under 35 U.S.C. 102(f) or (g), or 35 U.S.C. 102(e) for applications pending on or after December 10, 2004.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments, see after-final arguments, filed 1-31-07, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1-10 under 35 USC 103 have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the final rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of The reference to Chou et al. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion
